

This spreadsheet is to recognize Curundu/Curundu Heights kids who proudly served in the Armed Forces of the United States. Many are descendants of the original civilian community known as Skunk Hollow, which was a part of the military reservation of Ft. Clayton. Curundu/Curundu Heights was known as a rough and tumble community and often looked down upon by other communities. We never considered ourselves as such, but rather a community that stood together then, and still stands together today.
